NAPA THREE WAYS
INSANE FARM-TO-TABLE CUISINE PLUS BUCOLIC CALIFORNIA VINEYARD LANDSCAPES EQUALS A DESTINATION PERFECT FOR ALL OF YOUR PARTIES

WHERE TO STAY

ANDAZ NAPA A downtown location puts this hip hotel within walking distance of tasting rooms, the farm-grown and artisanal fare at Oxbow Public Market, and the buzzy rooftop bar at the Thomas. Plus, every night, you and your girl squad can hit the free wine tastings by the hotel’s fire pits. Doubles from $295; andaz.com.

SOLAGE CALISTOGA Book a block of airy suites for your guests and a bungalow for yourself—ideal for bridal-party primping. Tip: Michelin-rated Solbar’s outdoor patio is a sweet spot for a post-wedding brunch. Doubles from $400; solagecalistoga.com.

CITY WINERY In sleepy Napa, most restaurants close at 10 p.m., but this live-music venue on Main Street stays open until midnight on weekends. Nosh on duck tostitos, catch a show, and work your way through more than a few of the 30-plus vintages on the wine list.

CULINARY INSTITUTE OF AMERICA AT GREYSTONE Kick off your weekend with a rehearsal dinner at this historic manor, where many a top chef has trained. Guests will dig the wine-paired, farm-fresh menu and the gorge vineyard views.

THE RESTAURANT AT MEADOWOOD Talk about personalized: The chef at this chic sanctuary creates a custom 10-course feast for every table showcasing valley-grown and -foraged ingredients—some from the resort’s own gardens.

WHAT TO DO

MUD BATHS AT INDIAN SPRINGS Detox from all those big cabs with a volcanic-ash mud bath followed by a soak in geysers-fed mineral water. Then chill by the tranquil Buddha Pond, where you can sip cucumber-citrus water under umbrellas and palms and plan your next round of tastings.

FARMSTEAD AT LONG MEADOW RANCH Napa lawns bar most wineries from hosting I do’s, so go for the next best thing and get hitched at this winemaker-owned St. Helena eatery with an outdoor lawn surrounded by gardens and grapevines.

TWO FLIGHTS IN ONE Hop on a hot-air balloon at Hall St. Helena Winery for a crazy-beautiful ride, then return to sample current releases and graze on seasonal snacks—all before lunch.
